"A trip, a safari, an expedition, is an entity different from all other journeys. It has temperament, personality, uniqueness . . . No two are alike. We find after years of struggle that we do not take a trip; a trip takes us."

Dear Friends:

Welcome again to the world of Ocean VOYAGES!

Our network of vessels and participants continues to expand. Look over our new trips to Malaysia, Thailand, Chile, Costa Rica, Italy and the islands of the Pacific Basin.

Many of our trips, both new and old, provide spectacular exploring in areas normally accessible only to long distance sailors. They offer fine sailing as well as a link with remote and fascinating cultures and regions of immense natural beauty: the fjords of southern Chile; the mist-clad islands of Malaysia; the unique wilderness of the Galapagos, and other special places.

Ocean VOYAGES is growing — both in the range of sailing locations and the selection of boats offered. Yet the quality and level of our personal involvement in our boats remains unchanged. I still spend a great deal of my time checking out new boats, and sailing with their skippers and crews. Some of them are fine vessels with experienced hands, but simply do not have the special qualities we seek for an Ocean VOYAGES program. Quality is our first priority.

Our new yachts, and even more important, the calibre of the captains and crews manning them, are excellent. They are in the same tradition as the outstanding vessels and crews who have sailed with Ocean VOYAGES for many years. I am proud to work with all these people. I wish to take this opportunity to thank you — both 'old' and 'new' — you are what make Ocean VOYAGES such a special experience for all participants, and for me.

In addition to our scheduled programs, Ocean VOYAGES has been arranging a growing number of custom itineraries for couples, families, groups of friends and expeditions. Many of these have combined ocean passages with island hopping — a great mix! To sail with a group, to evolve a tightknit crew, to share the dawn at sea and the excitement of impending landfall, to experience the delight and wonder of new people and places: this is my own particular joy in ocean voyaging.

In the past year, Ocean VOYAGES has provided consultation and vessels for scientific and film projects. We have also opened up new sailing, surfing, and windsurfing areas in Venezuela, Micronesia, and Hawaii.

Our long-standing projects have likewise increased in scope. For example, Cocos Island — an Ocean VOYAGES exclusive — has proved highly popular and is now established as one of the world's premier dive locations.

As the interest in adventure vacations grows, many new individuals have signed on this year and we've had many 'repeaters' from earlier years. That's wonderful! It is my belief that our particular programs offer special opportunities for people to relax, enjoy adventure, and to visit places in a way that is impossible by any other means.

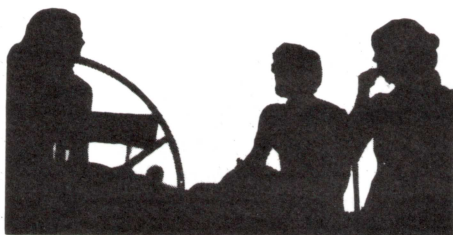

If you've sailed with us — join us soon again! If you're dreaming of it, call us to sign on!

Happy Voyaging,

Mary T. Crowley

What is Ocean Voyages?

Ocean Voyages is adventure—traveling the horizons of the earth's last frontier

Ocean VOYAGES is a unique organization which provides exotic sailing experiences ALL OVER THE WORLD. For many, cruising and exploring by yacht is a dream. Through our extraordinary network of vessels, however, it has become a reality for a growing number of people. Ocean VOYAGES offers challenging trips for veteran sailors, good learning experiences for novices — and great vacations for all.

In our fleet we have both the ultimate in luxury sailing and motor vessels and to suit your pocket book and sense of adventure — simpler, high quality boats. These latter vessels are recommended for those who want to participate in sailing and in adventure. They provide access to the type of experience you would find sailing the world on your own yacht.

The captains and crews of the entire range of yachts are chosen for their sailing backgrounds and expertise. Equally important is their ability to share their know-how, their hospitality, their local knowledge, and their proficiency in ensuring a marvelous vacation.

Our scheduled programs are open to individuals and groups. We also arrange special charters for every situation: friends who want to sail on holidays together; research expeditions; conferences for business corporations; film projects, etc. Whether you are landlocked with a yen for adventure, or an experienced sailor wishing the thrill of a different rig and new exciting locations — or anyone simply wanting the most refreshing and exciting, holiday of a lifetime, Ocean VOYAGES has the boat for you. We are the only organization which offers world-wide sailing opportunities for individuals and custom trips for groups in any corner of the globe.

Through Ocean VOYAGES, you can:

- Join special ocean passages — Atlantic or Pacific crossings.
- Learn to sail, snorkel, navigate or lay out on deck with a good book — just as you wish.
- Escape the main tourist streams in what is virtually your own home.
- Charter the world's fastest racing yachts to win or to enjoy the ultimate in high performance sailing.
- Locate the specialty boat from any historic era (or the most modern) that you may need for on-location filming.
- Join Scuba or oceanographic expeditions.
- Schedule a conference or R and R week for your corporation.
- Find the right boat for a scientific expedition, college course or marine educational project.

The woman behind Ocean VOYAGES is Mary Crowley, a life-long sailor, who has logged over 60,000 miles of worldwide sailing. For the past 12 years, she has been chartering vessels and coordinating expeditions and special maritime projects. Each boat and crew offered by Ocean VOYAGES has been checked out by Mary or a member of her knowledgeable staff. The crews of each vessel have extensive sailing experience and are thoroughly familiar with the areas in which they are sailing. One of the factors Ocean VOYAGES looks for in their skippers is charisma — which broadly means they are not only highly accomplished sailors and easy to get along with, but are interesting people and great shipmates.

With Ocean VOYAGES, it is possible for an individual or a couple to join a scheduled trip with confidence; or a small group to charter a vessel for themselves; or a larger group to have a mini-fleet coordinated to sail together.

You can choose:

- Island hopping and exploring
- Long ocean passages
- Leisurely cruising
- Deep sea diving — in such previously inaccessible areas as Cocos
- A scientific expedition
- A one week trip, an eight week trip — or anything in between.

Through jet transportation, even with limited time you can join trips in faraway countries and exotic ports. Everything will be organized and ready for you to begin your vacation the moment you step on board. An adventurous spirit, adaptability, and a readiness to participate are important qualities for sailing and travel to remote areas of the world.

Sailing is a special experience. The minute the boat leaves land, your workaday world drops away and another world opens up. On a boat with an Ocean VOYAGES crew you can:

- Be free of all responsibilities. You have no worries about planning meals, cooking or checking the anchor!

- Improve your sailing under the personal supervision of your skipper and crew.
- Do as much or as little as you feel like: take over the sailing of the vessel or concentrate on total relaxation.
- Reap the benefit of an insider's knowledge of the local sailing conditions, the best bays, anchorages and snorkeling places.
- Share the voyage with interesting people from different walks of life.
- Be with someone who knows the best landfalls, the local restaurants, markets and other places of interest.

So leave stress ashore and join us for the greatest experience ever!

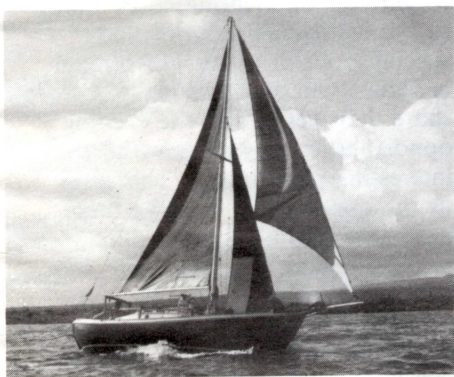

Costs All-Inclusive

All program prices, except where noted, are all inclusive for your time on the boat. Liquor is extra. Prices do not include transportation to the vessels but Ocean VOYAGES is happy to help you with your travel arrangements. Our brochure offers a wide range of yachting costs. Many of our scheduled programs and special group trips are exceptional bargains. Our skippers really wish to share their vessel and the exciting opportunities they offer with interesting participants. This gives us the opportunity to make these programs very affordable. Our prices compare very favorably with the cost of staying in hotels and taking land excursions — and with Ocean VOYAGES your experiences will be much richer.

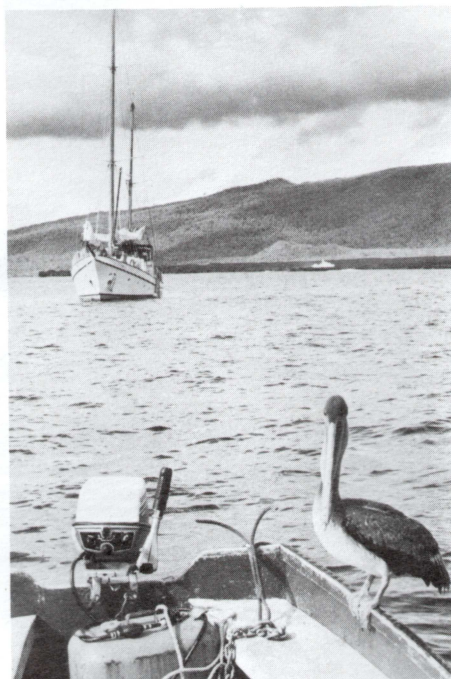

What a trip! I told you earlier that the Galapagos Islands were our number 1 travel destination. After this trip, they still are — even more so. It was equal to or exceeded all of our expectations. Our thanks to you.

CACHALOTE

Galapagos Islands

"From without, no wonderful effect is wrought within ourselves, unless some interior, responding wonder meets it . . ."
Melville

"Both in space and time, we seem to be brought somewhat near to that great fact — that mystery of mysteries — the first appearance of new beings on earth."
Darwin

These unique and very special programs are one of our proudest offerings. Visiting the famous Galapagos Archipelago — not as tourists but as guests of the families who have lived and explored here for many years — creates a true expedition.

Exuding a feeling of being close to nature almost at the source of creation, the Galapagos Islands are volcanic rock formations jutting out of the sea and straddling the equator roughly 600 miles off the coast of Ecuador. The deep blue waters, the barren and moonlike landscapes, the cast of unusual birds and animals, the mid-day sun and the canopy of a thousand stars at night, all contribute to a crispness and clarity which is so full of nature that it is 'other-worldly.'

Almost all of the wondrous species to be found on the Galapagos are amazingly free of the fear of man: the flightless cormorants, the quizzical blue-footed boobies, the penguins, the flamingos and the marine and land iguanas, the fur seals, the sea lions, the sea turtles and the giant land tortoises. One can observe them closely and see how they have adapted to this beautiful yet inhospitable landscape.

Just as the isolation of these islands and their environmental simplicity fostered the evolution of the unique wildlife, the Galapagos experience today offers a powerful reflective mirror that stimulates personal evolution. Each person tends to have their own Galapagos experience. Each island is a remarkable and different experience.

This fragile archipelago is appreciated best through small group exploration. The qualifications of our skipper/guides are unequalled. The Angermeyers, Schreyers, De Roys, Cruzs and Wittmers are all warm, friendly people. Long time residents, they know the islands intimately. A naturalist guide trained at the Darwin Station accompanies each group.

The 15-day expeditions allow time to see most of the archipelago. The intensive 22-day expedition is recommended for the adventurous and vigorous: those wishing to climb the Alcedo volcano and explore the more inaccessible sites. Scuba can be arranged for groups at additional cost. All trips begin and end at the island of Baltra, Galapagos.

EQUINOCCIO II

Sail the majestic, seldom explored fjords and islets of southern Chile. Voyages may include wonders such as the underground river entrance to Laguna San Rafael, the huge glacier there; the oyster and mussel farms of Teresa; Aysen and Queilen; hot mineral baths; whales, dolphins and magnificent birdlife. The three week trip will go as far south as Puerto Eden, home of the last Alcaluf Indians and will explore some of the fjords that lead east to the glaciers of the Southern Patagonian Ice Cap.

Skipper Anthony Westcott is Chilean, with many years of experience in these waters. He looks forward to you joining him on these remarkable programs, to some of the world's least visited and most dramatically beautiful waterways. Equinoccio was specially commissioned for these programs, leaving from Puerto Aysen.

Ocean VOYAGES is proud of these new programs exploring the Pacific coast of Costa Rica. Beautiful areas, not accessible by road make a boat an ideal base for exploring this coast. You will love the spectacular beaches, fascinating hikes, diverse wildlife and visits to some of Costa Rica's National Parks (considered to be one of the finest park systems in the world).

Trips vary, with destinations such as the old gold country of Corcovado, with the widest range of wildlife in the country; the primeval beach of Cabo Blanco; Bahia Brasilito, the myriad islands of the Nicoya Gulf, and others.

Groups of 2-4 can join captain Steve Snider who has lived in Costa Rica for the last ten years and knows the best areas. For larger groups, Ocean VOYAGES has a 45' ketch which comfortably accommodates 2-5 persons.

La Traviata

Besides the experience of traversing the world's longest canal, Panama has other wonderful cruising opportunities, with the beautiful beaches of the Islas las Perlas in the Pacific, or on the Atlantic side, the San Blas Islands — home of the Cuna Indians. The Cuna Indians continue to live in their traditional way (making the intricate applique blouses, 'mola') — a fascinating culture to visit.

La Traviata is a sleek, custom designed steel ketch. She has been recently refitted and is very comfortable below with three double cabins and luxurious salon. She is available for custom group programs throughout the year in Panama.

WAFER BAY, COCOS ISLAND

Cocos Island

12 days
8-12 participants

Ocean VOYAGES offers exclusive expeditions to Cocos Island, lying 300 miles off Costa Rica in the Pacific. Long a favorite hideaway for marauding pirates awaiting Spanish galleons, Cocos is today part of Costa Rica's national park service and the world's largest uninhabited island — a lush verdant preserve with over 200 waterfalls, many of which plunge directly into the sea.

Cocos's vibrant tropical growth holds many treasures for naturalists — unique tree ferns and many types of birds, including three indigenous species. There is a great hiking trail between Chatham and Wafer Bays, (other parts of the 20 square miles demand machete for adventuresome hiking).

SCUBA enthusiasts revel in these virgin waters and the abundant sea life. As a mid-ocean island, Cocos attracts the 'big' fish. The water is spectacularly clear for diving, fishing, swimming and snorkeling.

Victoria Af Carlstad, which conducted the highly successful 1982/83 season, will be returning to Cocos Island in 1983/84. Victoria an 82' Gaff Schooner, is recently built, based on the design of a 19th century schooner. There are four double cabins and a large saloon, capable of seating 20 people. The skipper and crew are very experienced and know the prime dive spots of Cocos Island: they discovered some of them.

For the 1984/85 season, Victoria plus a 96' schooner (accommodating 12) and a 60' ketch (accommodating 8) will be based in Costa Rica for coastal trips, Cocos Island expeditions and Panama.

VAGRANT

It was a perfectly wonderful vacation. Both my husband and I were very impressed with Hans, his boat and . . . his crew. We feel very fortunate that we had the experience of his knowledge — his adventurous attitude. He and Bonnie really "cared" if we had a good time — and we did. Thank him for us!

Grenadines

The Grenadines

The Grenadines are made up of 32 beautiful unspoiled islands and cays, stretching from St. Vincent to Grenada. With consistent winds, the Grenadines are considered by many to offer the finest sailing in the Caribbean. Landfalls to explore include: Bequia, with its strong shipbuilding tradition; Mustique; isolated Canouan; Petite St. Vincent; the Tobago Cays and their famous reefs — all wonderful areas for sailing and relaxing.

50' Campos Ketch
4 participants

Gauche is a beautiful, Campos double-ended ketch. This sturdy and commodious yacht is sea kindly and fun to sail. She has a spacious, fine-crafted wood interior, featured in the book, "Down Below."

Nigel Palmer and his crew are expert sailors and know the islands well. Nigel's love of sailing and good humor and the atmosphere his French wife, Maude creates as she dreams up succulent meals, create long remembered voyages. Martinique, St. Lucia and the Grenadines are all possible ports of call for Gauche, which is available for custom voyages.

I was awed by the beauty of the boat, the power of the ocean, the skill of the crew — and the Lesser Antilles were an unexpectedly beautiful environment in which to sail. The trip was spectacular. Nigel was a delight . . . thoughtful, quiet, informative, and ready to roll . . . Catherine's cooking was gourmet — delicious.

Westerner, a 44' Alden Cutter, combines the style and grace of a traditional sailing yacht with the speed of a fine racer — a perfect yacht to explore the Grenadines. Maintained to the highest standards, Westerner is a joy to sail.

Skipper Jack Thomson, an excellent instructor, has logged over 50,000 miles throughout the Atlantic, Mediterranean, Pacific and Caribbean. With his nautical expertise and extensive knowledge of these islands, Jack is a great raconteur, shipmate and guide. He and his cook take great pride in serving delicious meals, from fresh fish, seafood, island produce and local wines.

Special voyages in addition to those scheduled below can be arranged to meet your particular requirements for groups of 2,3 or 4. In one week, you can see some of the Grenadines, in two almost all.

Water Pearl, built in Bequia in 1980, is based alternately out of St. Vincent (cruising the Grenadines) and St. Maarten (cruising the West Indies). In the West Indies, this magnificent schooner introduces you to an exotic potpourri of cultures: Dutch, French, English and West Indian as you sail to St. Barts, Anguilla, Antigua, Martinique, Carriacou, and other islands. In the Grenadines you roam the many unspoiled islands of this most southern chain of the Caribbean.

Chris Bowman and his Bequia crew encourage your participation and are great teachers and fun people who know how to make the most out of the consistent year-round trade winds. They also provide a delicious array of West Indian seafood and Creole dishes.

British Steel is a part of sailing history. Built in 1970, she was used by Chay Blyth to sail singlehanded around the world the 'wrong way' — against the prevailing winds and currents. British Steel has now been refitted, with teak throughout below decks so she offers good accommodations, but remains a fast, sleek vessel.

In late August she begins her Atlantic crossing: Scotland, Spain, Portugal, Madeira, the Canary Islands, and Grenada. Beginning December St. Lucia is her base for 1984 and 1985. Captain Derek Lester is available for custom trips throughout the Caribbean.

This recently-built, aluminum ketch offers a combination of superb sailing and comfort. Four double cabins, with fine wood interiors and full amenities are provided. Captain Christian Asperges shares with you his joy of sailing, knowledge of navigation and the special beauty of Chrisaldy's cruising areas. In the winter, Chrisaldy is based out of Martinique; in summer, she sails the Mediterranean. Christian and his crew offer fine food French style and a delightful atmosphere — all adding up to the perfect sailing vacation.

Seasonal ocean passages are also available aboard Chrisaldy. The Atlantic crossing is an excellent way to gain blue water experience. Chrisaldy sails from the Caribbean to the Mediterranean; departing approximately April 15; from the Mediterranean to the Caribbean departing Nov. 1 — five weeks of ocean passage for $1400.

Sayonara is one of the world's premium yachts. She is extremely fast and utterly luxurious. Her sumptuous accommodations are decorated with Chinese silk hangings and Napoleonic candelabra. She has a large saloon, two video systems, a forepeak bar and spacious teak decks. She is equipped with two water makers, air conditioning, hydraulic winches and 6,800 sq. feet of sail. The gourmet French cook prepares pure delicacies, with lots of fresh fish, seafood, or whatever your preference.

Owner/skipper, Mitja Mehle, is a very experienced sailor and is packed with energy, intelligence and generosity — the ideal captain for one of the world's finest yachts. He takes pride in perfection and good service.

Sayonara is now based in the Caribbean and available for charter. In the summer of 1984 leaving Panama, she moves into the Pacific in May to sail to the Galapagos, Easter Island, Pitcairn Island and Tahiti — a very special opportunity to visit some of the world's most fascinating islands on one of the world's most wonderful yachts. Sayonara is then available throughout the Pacific Islands after July 1, 1984.

Mitja has particular knowledge of the outer islands of French Polynesia: the Northern Cooks including Suvorov: Tonga and Samoa. Sayonara's speed makes it possible to explore in depth two Pacific Island groups in just a 3 to 4-week voyage — luxury and adventure in remote island paradises.

Everyone who enjoys a classic schooner, leisurely island-hopping, white coral beaches and clear warm waters is delighted with these programs. William H. Albury is a locally-built schooner and the official Bahamian entry in the Tall Ships races. Her namesake was the patriarch of shipbuilding in the Abacos.

Skipper Joe Maggio has been cruising the Bahamas for 15 years and has been honored by the American Sail Training Association for his contributions to sail training.

With over 700 islands, the Bahamas offer spectacular snorkeling through intricate coral reefs, teeming with colorful fish. Fair breezes, fine anchorages, and clear blue waters provide ideal cruising.

Itineraries vary to take advantage of the winds. All expeditions begin and end in Marsh Harbor, Abaco, and include among others such islands as Man-O-War Cay, Hope Town, Green Turtle Cay and Treasure Cay. Snorkeling and sail training are integral parts of these trips.

Tall Ships Events on Albury

William H. Albury is the official Bahamian entry in Tall Ships events. Following the great success of her previous Tall Ships Races, she will again be taking part in 1984.

The Tall Ships will be coming across from Europe and up from the USA and South America, for a magnificent Maritime Celebration in the city of Quebec.

Albury offers a limited number of places to those who wish to have the unforgettable thrill of being a part of such scenes as sailing up the St. Lawrence in company with some of the world's grandest vessels. These are participatory trips for those who wish to be actively involved in the tall ships events.

After Quebec, Albury will then cruise down the Eastern Seaboard, visiting both large cities and small ports.

The Aegean: Greek Islands and the Turkish Coast

The legendary Aegean offers breathtaking panoramas and some of the world's most interesting and leisurely cruising. In this archaeologically rich, historical setting, classical ruins vie for your attention with charming villages and their colorful inhabitants. The ancient and the contemporary exist side by side against a landscape of rugged grandeur. Voyage along the Turkish coast and through the islands of the eastern Dodecanese — still largely 'undiscovered' by tourism. Enjoy the sun, swimming, snorkeling, ethereal skies, and translucent turquoise bays. Ocean VOYAGES also has vessels available for groups from Piraeus, Athens.

Serena 62' Classic Steel Sloop 10-14 days 6 participants

Serena, a beautiful, classic 62' steel sloop is an ideal vessel for cruising the Aegean. Her spacious teak deck, rich paneled interior and fine sailing ability all contribute to your Aegean vacation. Her skipper, Mark Sange, has been sailing these waters for over ten years and easily shares his knowledge, friends, and adventures. Mark also speaks fluent Greek and some Turkish. Excellent local and European cuisines as well as regional wines are served on board! Programs begin and end at Mandraki Harbor in Rhodes.

Electric Lamb 54' Ketch 6-8 participants

Indonesia is a vast cruising ground — with over 13,000 islands! The waters and coral provide superb snorkeling; the islands an exotic blend of cultures. Possible landfalls may include the Krakatoa volcanic islands; the Pulau Seribu coral islands; the southern islands (Bali, etc.); the multi-colored crater lakes of the Kelimutu volcano. These are exhilarating opportunities to enjoy fine sailing in an area best explored by yacht.

Electric Lamb is a modern ketch, built for maximum cruising efficiency. Skipper Rick Cameron has been sailing since a boy, and is a champion surfer as well. He is an authority on alternative energy technology and Indonesian culture. Rick is designing special bi-monthly voyages while individuals may join or we can arrange custom trips for groups.

Tropic Bird II

41' Sloop

2-5 participants

Tropic Bird sails out of Hong Kong, and the myriad islands closeby. Each year, she also cruises in the Philippines, Borneo, Malaysia, and Singapore.

Tropic Bird is commodious, sleek, new and fast! A custom built 41' sloop, she has two double cabins, a comfortable shower and well designed ventilation for the Tropics.

Skipper Brian Saunders has spent his life sailing and exploring new cultures and lands, particularly in the Pacific Basin. He and first mate Inawa, from New Zealand, welcome you aboard for fine sailing and exotic adventures.

Brian and Inawa were headed around the world but fell in love with the Far East and intend to stay and explore these areas on specialized expeditions from a week to several months. They are wonderful people to travel with — come join them for a custom trip to suit your interest (available for 2-5 persons).

These participatory expeditions focus on marine conservation. Alan White, expedition leader, has designed a marine sanctuary system for the Philippines, and is continuing his work and exploring new marine areas in this region while completing his Ph.D. thesis. Alan welcomes your assistance in surveying and documenting the life in these clear, pristine waters. These fun and unusual, non-luxury expeditions emphasize the study of coral reef ecology and how it is entwined with the lives of the local villages.

Using 'bancas' (motorized outrigger, canoe-like boats), you visit a variety of islands in the Visayan Sea, with ample opportunity for snorkeling, and Scuba diving in some of the world's most colorful diving sites. Twelve day programs combine hotel accommodation with camping on the islands. Ten day programs are based in Damaguete and make Scuba excursions out to the islands.

Alan is also conducting research projects in the northern Palawan area via the Cuyo Islands, an atoll area that is virtually unexplored scientifically. During 1984/85 we intend to use one of our larger vessels to mount a scientific (scuba) expedition to the northern Sula Sea, Tubbataha and Cagayancillo.

So Fong is a classic Sparkman & Stephens Schooner, built of Burma teak. Below, there's exquisite carved paneling and inlay. On deck, a roomy cockpit provides shelter from the sun. So Fong is fully equipped for scuba, and Bill Mathers and his crew know the best spots: they have discovered some of the prime locations and wrecks in this little explored area.

Itineraries vary according to the season. From April to October, So Fong cruises the east coast of Malaysia. This is a beautiful remote area, where small villages nestle on the shore and at river mouths. Offshore the jewel is the island of Pulau Timoan, chosen as Bali Hai for Hollywood's 'South Pacific.' From November to March So Fong sails the West coast: old Dutch Malacca, the idyllic Langkawi islands, and Phuket, Thailand.

Prices vary dependent on area, length of trip, number of people on board — for example: typical per person per day pricing from $130-$175, all inclusive.

Alvee is a spectacular schooner, maintained in immaculate condition. She has flush teak decks and sparkling bright work. Below, there are four staterooms, and large salon, in mahogany. The food is superb, with extensive use of local Thai dishes.

Alvee is based in the enchanting island of Phuket, Thailand. Against a diverse backdrop of ancient Buddhist temples, dense rainforest and quaint villages, Alvee explores the score of islands along Thailand's southern coast. From short island hops to more challenging ocean passages in the Andaman Sea, Thailand offers a memorable vacation.

Alvee and crew are the perfect guides to introduce you to one of the most exotic, luxuriantly beautiful cruising grounds in the world. She is Scuba equipped — you can revel in the abundant, world famous dive sites. This is a wonderful area to explore by yacht, both for the cosmopolitan traveler looking for new horizons or anyone wishing truly unique and special sailing. Alvee is also available for voyages out of Singapore to Tioman and other areas.

Pricing varies according to area. Basic rate, all inclusive, for six: one week $7,500; two weeks, $14,000.

Australia/ Western Pacific

Tafua

60' Aluminum Catamaran
Up to 8 participants
Scuba available

Tafua is the largest aluminum catamaran in Australia. She's fast, spacious, and very comfortable. Her shallow draught makes her an ideal boat for cruising the Whitsunday Islands and exploring the island groups of the Western Pacific.

Skipper John Nicholls, and his wife Jan, have been sailing this region for many years. Their hospitality, sailing expertise and knowledge of the area give participants a special introduction to the history and cultures and pleasures of cruising.

Through October 1982, Tafua is based out of Shute Harbour in the Whitsundays. These are great cruising islands, off the Queensland coast, in the Great Barrier Reef area. Tafua spends the summer (Australian) in Sydney. In June 1984, she begins a series of two and three week programs from Sydney to places such as Noumea, Vanuatu, San Cristobel, the Solomons and Papua New Guinea (where she will be based for six weeks in November/December) and available for group programs.

1983 pricing: $97 per day.

New Caledonia/ Loyalty Islands

New Caledonia is a sub-tropical paradise. The waters are clear and warm, the beaches long stretches of golden sands, grottoes and caves, a shading of coconut trees and hibiscus. The marine life is spectacular and diverse. The Island of Pines, a candidate for "the most beautiful island in the world" has sandalwood, towering pines, and many offshore islets. The Loyalty Islands, east of Noumea, are beautiful, unspoilt, and 'undiscovered'.

Ocean Voyages has two well equipped 38' sloops available with experienced captains. These vessels have been specially fitted out for cruising in this area and we are proud to offer this program for groups of four to six.

Tiree II is an ideal vessel for a group of friends or sailing companions to cruise New Zealand's beautiful coastline. Launched in New Zealand in 1977, she was built to the highest specifications — a classic ketch offering fast, first-class sailing. Skipper Bryan Walden and wife Marie have successfully raced and sailed Tiree extensively in New Zealand and the South Pacific. The interior is superbly fitted out in velvet, teak and walnut. Accommodations include two double cabins plus four additional berths for groups of four to six.

Tiree is based in the spectacular Bay of Islands. Islands, and innumerable clear bays dot the coast. Voyaging along this jagged, indented coastline you enjoy a lush green countryside full of remarkable species of trees and an immense diversity of bird life — some 200 species. Voyages begin and end in the Bay of Islands unless otherwise scheduled.

Special Programs for Sailors:

Believing in New Zealand as an ideal sailing area, we can arrange three to four high quality New Zealand ocean racing yachts sailing in a fleet (races could be scheduled) for dates of your choice. If your yacht club or sailing friends wish a spectacular vacation, consider New Zealand. Groups of 16 or more can utilize group air fares.

Tequila

46' Ocean Racing Sloop
10, 14 & 21 days 6 participants

New Zealand is one of our finest sailing locations, with good winds and fast, well-built yachts. For those who have sailed extensively and value fine yachts, or those who are seeking the perfect place to learn basic sailing skills, we highly recommend New Zealand.

The North Island is one of the most gloriously natural places on earth; a coastline of harbors, bays and islands, over 250 types of birds, bush walks through groves of kauri are just part of the fascination of this area. Voyages begin in Auckland and anchorages may include Mansion House Bay, Tutakaka, the beautiful Bay of Islands, Poor Knights Island, Percy Island and Hohora.

D'Arcy and Molly Whiting, skipper and first mate of Tequila, excel in sailing, good humor and hospitality. D'Arcy is well-known in New Zealand yachting circles and writes regularly for New Zealand Yachting magazine. Tequila is a fast, sensitive ocean racing yacht that is a joy to sail.

The South Pacific

Ocean VOYAGES has extended its range of yachts in the Pacific. We have new exciting programs that offer access throughout most areas of the world's greatest ocean. Sailing in the Pacific can take many forms: ocean passages, island hopping, lazing in a lagoon, snorkeling, joining vital research teams, participating in the revived age of commercial sail — and more.

The islands present a fascinating range of cultures and experiences. High islands with lush vegetation, low-lying atolls, a rich profusion of flowers, plants, birds and fish life, the excitement of the tamure, the enchantment of a deserted island: all are part of the diversity of the Pacific experience.

The areas now covered include Tahiti and French Polynesia, the Cooks, Tonga, Vanuatu, Papua New Guinea, Micronesia, Kiribati and Tuvalu, and Samoa. Ocean VOYAGES co-ordinates expeditions annually to Pictairn Island, one of the most isolated islands in the world, and the home of the Bounty Mutineers. We also sponsor specialized 'island living' voyages through the Cook Islands.

Contact our office for further details on the wide range of remarkable cruising opportunities.

SAYONARA (see page 17)

STOP PRESS: In the summer of 1984, Sayonara, 118' ketch, is sailing from Panama to the Galapagos, Easter Island, Pitcairn Island to Tahiti. This cruise is a once-in-a-lifetime chance to visit some of the world's most fascinating islands, and sail on one of the world's premier yachts. Price for this unique, luxury adventure: $8,500 per person.

DELIVERANCE

A 96-foot, 100-ton, gaff schooner — Deliverance, is one of the finest, traditionally-built and rigged schooners afloat. Formerly the royal yacht of Prince Rainier of Monaco, she has been meticulously maintained since she was built in 1956. Her accommodations are luxurious.

With a highly experienced crew ready to pass on their knowledge of marlinspike sailing and seamanship, Deliverance offers a remarkable opportunity for those interested in cruising and deep water sailing on a traditional schooner. The skipper, mate and bosun all have 100-ton licenses, and have spent many years on traditional boats. You can learn to handle over 4,000 square feet of sail! Deliverance also boasts a gourmet chef.

New Zealand/ South Pacific

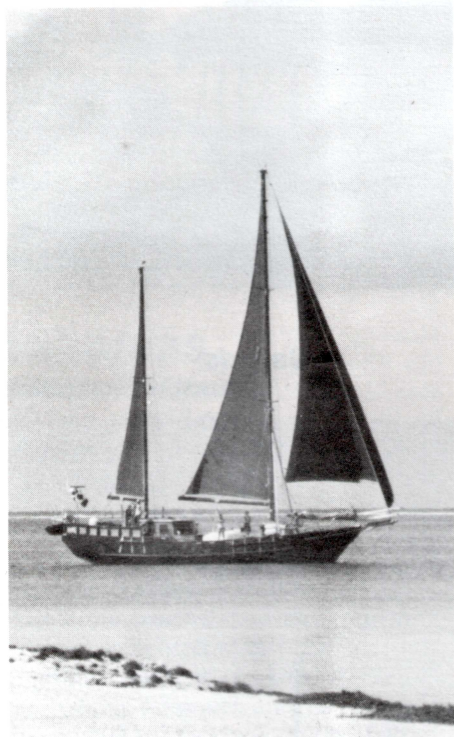

Tai Haruru

70' Ketch

6-8 participants

Tai Haruru sails the South Pacific, with emphasis on the out of the way places that most people miss. She's very spacious, the ideal platform for gunkholing and exploring these beautiful islands.

Skipper David Johnston is a very experienced ocean sailor and looks forward to this voyage with its combination of relaxed island cruising and ocean passages. David is a New Zealander who holds a Chief Officer's certificate and is happy to teach navigation and seamanship to those interested.

TAI HARURU

Between these scheduled trips, Tai Haruru is available for custom group programs — a fun way to see the South Pacific.

Scame

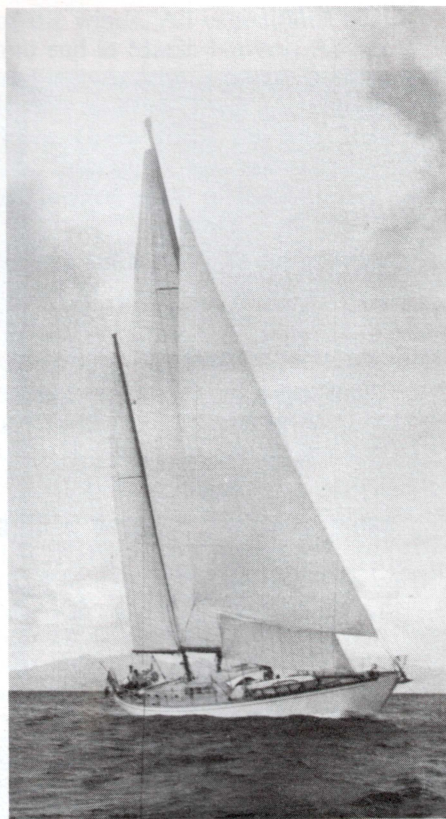

72' S&S Ketch

6-8 participants

Scame is a beautiful Sparkman & Stephens ketch, custom built to the highest specifications for the designer of Ferrari's. With Scame, there is fast, extremely comfortable sailing and top notch accommodations and service. French captain Daniel Ballian and his wife, Janine, are fun and spirited people who pride themselves on their hospitality and excellent food. They are proud of Scame and sail her magnificently. Below decks is very spacious, with four private double cabins and a large salon — fitted throughout in mahogany.

After several years based in French Polynesia, Scame is now cruising the island groups of the South Pacific, Micronesia (Truk lagoon) and further, into the Indian Ocean. These are all within cruising range for 1984, 85 and 86.

Pricing varies dependent on area and length of time. Inquire for custom voyages on this fine yacht. For example, based on 6 persons: one week: $7000; two weeks: $12,900.

Snowdrop

36' Cutter

15 days 2-4 participants

SNOWDROP

Snowdrop is a 36' teak-constructed cutter, built from a Dutch design. She has sleeping accommodations for groups of two to four people. Owner/skipper, Neal Skinner, enjoys sharing the boat and encourages everyone to join in life on Snowdrop to the full — sailing, windsurfing, playing the boat's collection of musical instruments, relaxing . . .

Snowdrop is based in the Marshall Islands, Micronesia, but ready also to sail to Ponape and Truk in the Carolines — another pair of delightful islands, with many atolls and islets. The snorkeling in the lagoons is superb and, on most days, there is not other soul around.

The Marshall Islands are low-lying, with wonderful beaches, lagoons, and charming people. Ponape and Truk are high islands, with rivers, waterfalls, a bounty of fruits and startling lagoons. Wherever you go on Snowdrop, you make the most of these spectacular islands.

Snowdrop is available for custom group charter — with dates of your choice — as well as to individuals on the scheduled dates below:

Roscop
46' Ketch
8 & 14 days
4 participants

Based in Huahine, Roscop is a 46' ketch, cruising and exploring the Leeward Islands, near Tahiti. She's easy to sail, and comfortably appointed. Enjoy the clear, warm waters, snorkel, perhaps catch lobster on the reef: these programs are designed to introduce you to the finer, unspoilt aspects of island life in paradise.

Skipper Rein Mortier is adroit at introducing you to reef sailing, cruising the lagoons, and how to find delicacies such as hearts of palm, the sweetest mangoes, etc. His wife, Marie Louise, is a superb cook, specialising in both European cuisine and local Polynesian dishes.

The scheduled voyages begin in Huahine, and progress to Raiatea, Tahaa and Bora Bora. There's time to explore fascinating landfalls, motus in the lagoons, and villages: all reminiscent of Michener and Stevenson. Sail on Roscop and discover the beauty of the South Seas: others have had to mutiny for it.

Wayleggo

46' Sloop

2-4 participants

Sail the outer islands of Tahiti, the Isles Sous le Vent, on Wayleggo, based in Raiatea and skippered by long-time resident, Raymond Pernet. Explore the islands of Raiatea and Tahaa, bounded by one reef, and meander through the many bays and motus that dot the lagoon. Bora Bora and Huahine are also available on longer voyages.

Discover the enchantment of the 'real' Polynesia, its opalescent seas, native villages, tropical beaches — a perfect setting for great sailing, snorkeling and relaxing. Enjoy the easy tempo of island life as you sail and enjoy.

Wayleggo is a simple, well-maintained boat. Raymond is a knowledgeable guide, besides being a fine cook. Programs can be arranged for dates of your choice through the year, for groups of two-four persons. This vessel offers you the opportunity to custom design a trip to suit your taste and tempo in this fine cruising ground.

Vanessa and skipper Jerry Sauzier are enjoyable and exhilarating guides to the Leeward Islands of French Polynesia. Jerry has been based there for many years, as well as having over 60,000 miles of blue-water sailing behind him. From January to the end of April, they are based in the Tuamotus, in Rangiroa. Rangiroa is a necklace of atolls surrounding a 400 square mile lagoon — the largest of its kind in the world. It's a delight to spend time exploring the lagoon, picnicking on the atolls, swimming, snorkeling (there is an incredible diversity of fish), white coral sand beaches, and riding the current of the pass into the lagoon.

The rest of the year, Vanessa sails the Isles Sous le Vent. We can arrange for Vanessa and Wayleggo to sail this area in tandem for groups of friends.

THE COOKS

*The Cook Islands

The Cook Island programs spend as much time as possible staying with the inhabitants of these remarkable island societies, concentrating on the remote northern Cooks. These islands are perhaps the most traditional of any in Polynesia. The islands visited include: Palmerston, Manihiki, Pakahanga and Pukapuka. These programs are done in conjunction with GoodTravel Tours, specialists in the Cook Islands.

At first we were embarrassed by the generosity and hospitality of the Pitcairners, hardly believing it could be sincere and sustained; but it was. To live in Adamstown is to bathe in a perpetual glow of friendship and trust.

MANUTEA

Commercial Sail

Ocean VOYAGES deeply believes in the value and importance of commercial sail in our world today. Large sailing ships carrying cargo to islands and coastal areas, as well as providing access and transportation for people to and from these regions, is indeed a grand yet realistic vision. With increased fuel costs, the economic viability of transporting cargo and people under sail grows. Furthermore, as the pressures of scheduling affecting the routing of 'conventional' freighters, more and more islands are becoming cut off and in desperate need of cargo transportation.

Ocean VOYAGES is acting as a general clearing house for information on commercial sail. There are a variety of projects already underway listed below.

We would welcome hearing of further projects, both those existing and those in developmental stages. We are in a position to assist vessels by recruiting participants for these sailing freighters and through our international network of contacts for cargo.

We are also able to station vessels worldwide to fulfill specific cargo requirements, so contact us if you need cargo transportation.

We have great images of sailing schooners delivering cargo to some of the world's most remote, exotic islands. These programs offer great adventures to participants and very needed cargo service to the island people of the world.

50-ton cargo hold

Manutea was specifically designed to be a fast sailing cargo/passenger vessel. Built in New Zealand and launched in 1982, on her maiden voyage, she nearly beat the record from New Zealand to Fiji.

Manutea is initially investigating commercial sail routes in the Pacific and is available for specialized cargo runs and expeditions. Ocean Voyages Institute is conducting a survey of alternative energy needs and commercial sail routes in the islands.

Built in Australia in 1973, Sol has recently been engaged in specialized Scuba expeditions. Since her original conception as a cargo schooner operating off Australia, Sol's captain, Kris Shaffer, became interested in circumnavigating the world on specialized Scuba programs and film projects. Kris still has an avid interest and belief in commercial sail. He is working with Ocean VOYAGES on future commercial sail projects. Sol is open to specialized diving and cargo projects worldwide.

Ocean Pickups

The One-Ton Ocean Pickup has been developed by Ocean Arks International and Dr. John Todd. It is constructed using new cold molding techniques and sophisticated epoxy glues, to enable the use of inexpensive woods. The Ocean Pickup is intended to provide an easy to construct vessel, not demanding scarce 'prime' woods, for the coastal communities of the Third World. The Ocean Pickup is designed to act either as a water taxi, cargo vessel or fishing boat.

In the winter of 1983, the Ocean Pickup fished experimentally and successfully in New England waters. In the Spring/Summer it is in Guyanese waters on a feasibility study of sail in fisheries project. By the fall of 1983 the Ocean Pickup will be undertaking a comparable study off the Caribbean coast of Costa Rica.

Long range plans involve designing and building a variety of high performance sailing vessels adapted to specific fisheries, tasks and regions. Research will also include small-scale cargo and transport. For more information on this project, contact Ocean VOYAGES' office.

OCEAN PICK-UP

California/Hawaii

A 62' staysail schooner is being prepared for a regular cargo/passenger run between California and the Hawaiian Islands. This vessel is U.S. Coastguard certified and will be available for inter-island work in Hawaii as well.

The perfect trip for learning to sail at any time of year in gorgeous surroundings. Leaving out of San Diego, a 39' sloop takes you cruising for one week or 12 day trips among some of the California Channel Islands. Whether a novice or a veteran sailor, you can learn or brush-up on your seamanship and navigation.

Here wildlife and dramatic seascapes abound. Brown Pelicans share Santa Barbara Island with seals, sea lions and sea birds; wild bison roam Santa Catalina. In the winter months (Dec-Apr), California Gray Whales, the rarer blue whales, pass through the islands on their annual migration.*

Enjoy hiking and exploring and sailing instruction and relaxation. These programs are ideal for those seeking hands-on experience in ocean sailing. Perfect for a school or office group. Chris Burns and others are fine skippers and experienced instructors with a detailed knowledge of the islands, their special anchorages, unique history and beautiful coves.

She's a beautiful vessel, a combination of graceful design and today's comfort and conveniences, being completely refitted in 1975 and kept in immaculate condition since. Both above and below decks, Vadura shines: polished bronze and brass and highly varnished teak.

Ernie Minney is a vastly experienced, knowledgeable skipper and has a passion for classic yachts: he previously circumnavigated the world on the elegant Shearwater. Ernie's love for the world's most beautiful yachts led him to Vadura, which meets his standards of excellence. This is an exceptional vessel and captain.

Hawaii is a special place, rich in history and abundant with natural splendor. Beyond Waikiki, there is a bountiful Hawaii: coral reefs, quiet anchorages, waterfalls and great beauty. This is the Hawaii which our vessels explore, cruising the islands of Lanai, Maui, Moloki, Molokini and Oahu. (Kauai and Hawaii are available by special arrangement.)

Equally attractive to both novice and experienced sailors, there is time for individualized sail training as well as relaxing in the sun, hiking, snorkeling and other adventures. Winter months offer* humpback whale observation. A fine crew and the thrill of voyaging inter-island in these warm waters make for a truly unique and care-free combination of land and sea — a vacation that is truly a non-tourist exploration of the "real" Hawaii.

The varied conditions of sailing in Hawaii provide excellent sail training: exhilarating channel crossings, coastal sailing and beautiful anchorages. Fine snorkeling along colorful reefs, bathing in waterfalls, and the smell of plumeria are also part of Hawaii.

Ocean VOYAGES has a variety of vessels available in Hawaii:

Contessa, 50' Cutter, is an excellent, well-equipped cruising yacht. She's great fun to sail, with spacious decks, a central saloon below, and two double cabins. Skipper, Rob Barrel is a fine sailor and teacher. He is very knowledgeable about the islands and the oceans. Finding the spectacular, out-of-the way parts of the islands, dolphins and whales are some of his particular interests.

RODONIS

Rodonis, 47' cutter, is named for the 'wind goddess.' She has been sailed extensively in Hawaii, Alaska and the Pacific, and can make the most of the island conditions. Skipper Randi Somers and crew are fine sailors and cheerful, welcoming shipmates.

Midnight Sun, Nordic 44, is a fast, sensitive sloop and perfect for sail training. Captain Vince Kelly is a great teacher and enjoys the beautiful tropical sailing of Hawaii after his years in Alaska.

It was all there Spending the night in a secluded cove, snorkeling, waterfalls, sunny beaches, great sailing! The trip was everything we had expected. Rob . . . was a first class skipper.

Jay Jacobs & family, Carson, CA
Hawaii

I loved the trip, everything about it . . . (the skipper) is a special person and his love for the area is contagious. Having a good voyage, once you are confident in your craft and your skipper, is a question of being open to what the experience brings and leaving your expectations at home.

China/Brazil

Ocean VOYAGES is pioneering adventure sail programs in two very exciting areas: China and Brazil. These unique maritime programs open up fresh perspectives on these two fascinating areas: China with its rivers reaching into the country's heartlands, and Brazil with great sailing conditions and beautiful, little explored coastline. We can at present arrange for custom group programs in these areas and will be operating scheduled programs open to individuals in 1984/85.

Ocean Passages

Ocean VOYAGES offers ocean passages both long and short. We have boats sailing inter-island and between island chains as well as ocean crossings of the Atlantic, Pacific and Indian Oceans, and blue water legs of long term circumnavigations.

Experience the joy and rhythm of a sea voyage — improve sailing techniques, gain practical experience in navigation; become part of a working crew — experience the wind, sea, sunrises, sunsets, moonrises, the vast performances of the stars. A community of people working together and getting to know each other within this vibrant arena of nature is part of the thrill of ocean voyaging. The achievement of an ocean crossing in a sailing yacht is a fine human experience.

A range of boats make the Atlantic crossing; from east to west in fall, and west-east in spring. These vessels include: Chrisaldy, 72' ketch, Ocean Sunrise, and many more. Across the Indian Ocean there is No Name: in the Pacific Islands, Jakaranda, and many more as our Ocean Voyage vessels traverse the world.

Ocean VOYAGES specializes in combining ocean passagemaking and island exploration. Many islands are still rarely visited, and sailing is a great way to reach the world's special spots.

Why Sail with Ocean VOYAGES?

In the field of ocean sailing adventures, our vast experience assures an enjoyable, memorable voyage.

Our skippers have been carefully selected for their sailing expertise, gusto and knowledge of a variety of subjects.

Group sizes are small, ranging from four to fifteen people — ideal numbers to allow personal enjoyment and offering good economy. We can co-ordinate mini fleets to accommodate groups of eighteen to one hundred plus.

Finally, we enjoy a high percentage of repeat participants (over 35%) which says a great deal about why you should choose Ocean VOYAGES.

Air Transportation

Prices do not include air transportation. Ocean VOYAGES is happy to assist you with the most reasonable and efficient transport to our vessels and with knowledgeable land arrangements to complete your trip details.

Reservations and Payments:

INDIVIDUALS: Reservations for individuals joining scheduled trips are accepted up to seven days before departure. However, most trips fill well in advance. You are wise to sign up early. Final payment is due two months prior to departure. All payments must be made in U.S. dollars.

GROUPS: Reservations for groups arranging custom trip dates are made by a 50% deposit of the total charter fee with the remaining balance due 30 days prior to departure. Though fine yachts can be available for last minute arrangements, we strongly recommend planning six months to one year in advance to assure you the best yacht for your purposes.

Cancellations and Refunds

INDIVIDUALS: A $75 per person cancellation fee is charged if we receive notice of cancellation more than 60 days prior to departure. If notice of cancellation is received between 45 and 60 days prior to departure, cancellation fee is $200 per person. If notice of cancellation is received in our office within 45 days prior to departure, cancellation fee is determined by vessel costs, our costs, and our ability to resell your space. If costs necessitate, cancellation fee may be 100%. We suggest Trip Cancellation Insurance be purchased to protect against cancellation fee loss.

GROUPS: In case of cancellation, monies are not refundable unless we are able to rebook the vessel for the same time period in which instance we levy a service charge for our expenses and return the remainder of the charter deposit. In cases where only a portion of the trip dates are rebooked, we make a proportional refund.

Costs:

COSTS ARE ALL INCLUSIVE: Vessels, accommodations, meals, instruction, etc. NOT INCLUDED in any trip is the cost of your passport (which you must obtain), visas, medical immunization obtained before leaving home, insurance of any kind, alcoholic beverages, laundry and other items of a personal nature. Some trips also exclude certain meals and specialized sightseeing arrangements.

Trip cost is based on a full sign-up and foreign rates of exchange prevailing at the time this brochure goes to press. Prices are subject to change either way. The programs offered in this brochure may be discontinued or altered at any time. After acceptance of a deposit, Ocean VOYAGES reserves the right to change dates, skipper, and itinerary details. Ocean VOYAGES further reserves the right to change vessels either prior to or during a program.

Medical and Health

Ocean VOYAGES, Inc. assumes no liability regarding provision of medical care. Participants are urged to check their medical coverage to be sure it is adequate. Minor first-aid items are available on board the vessels. Personal medications, sunburn preventatives, etc. are the responsibility of the individual trip member. Travel Insurance is available from our travel agency.

GENERAL CONDITIONS

RESERVATIONS: To reserve space on any scheduled expedition, send a deposit of $200 per person per program. Upon receipt of your deposit, you will receive confirmation (first come, first served). For customized group departures, ask for our group application form which requires 50% deposit and has specific refund conditions. FULL PAYMENT is due prior to 60 days before departure. We reserve the right to cancel your reservation if full payment is not made on time. In such cases the deposit is non-refundable.

FULL TRIPS: If a trip is full, you will automatically be wait-listed. If we are not able to confirm you, your deposit or payment is 100% refundable.

CANCELLATIONS made by you will result in the refund of any deposit or payments made to us less a cancellation fee, according to the following schedule:

Cancellation fee per person	Determined by date written cancellation is received by our office.
$75	60 days or more prior to departure
$200	60 to 45 days prior to departure

Within 45 days or less prior to departure date, a percentage of the total expedition fee, with the amount to be determined by vessel costs, our costs and our ability to refill your space, is charged. If costs necessitate, cancellation fee may be 100%.

NOTE: Trip cancellation insurance may be purchased through travel agents for a nominal premium from Travelers Insurance. We urge you to purchase such insurance and to read your policy carefully.

TRANSFER FEE: $25 prior to 60 days before departure per person.

If, for any reason, we find it necessary to cancel a given expedition, we will, of course, refund all deposits and payments in full and/or offer you alternative arrangements.

AGREEMENT OF LIABILITY & RESPONSIBILITY & RELEASE

I hereby understand and agree to the above General conditions and to the following terms and conditions of participating in an Ocean VOYAGES program.

1. Liability and Release: In traveling to and from any ocean voyage and during the expedition itself, there are certain risks and dangers, including but not limited to hazards arising from the forces of nature, from living on board ship, from accident or illness without medical facilities, and from travel itself. In consideration of, and as part payment for, the right to participate in this expedition, I assume all risks of harm, injury and damage to myself and my personal property arising out of my preparation for and participation in this expedition. I agree to hold Ocean VOYAGES, Inc. harmless from, and to indemnify it against, any and all claims, liabilities, obligations, and causes of action of whatever kind of nature for injury to me or my death and for any and all damage to, or destruction of, my personal property, resulting from any and all negligent acts or omissions of Ocean VOYAGES, Inc. or its employees, agents, contractors or invitees.

2. Suppliers or services: Ocean VOYAGES, Inc. is performing a service by making known to potential participants worthwhile ocean expeditions. But Ocean VOYAGES, Inc. is acting independently and has no business association as partner or joint venture, with any boat owner, resort, hotel, carrier or other supplier of sail or other transportation of other services. Any and all claims for inadequate or non-performance of such services may be made against the supplier of those services but shall not be made against Ocean VOYAGES, Inc.

3. Airline Clause: The airlines concerned are not to be held responsible for any act, omission or event during the time passengers are not on board their planes or conveyance. The passage contract in use by the airlines concerned, when issued, shall constitute the sole contract between the airlines and such purchasers of these tours and/or passenger. Such conveyance, etc., is subject to the laws of the countries involved.

4. Authority: All decisions relating to participants, vessel routing, and safety rest with our captain, group leader, or ourselves.

5. Change: Ocean Voyages reserves the right to change dates, skipper, and itinerary details. Ocean VOYAGES further reserves the right to change vessels either prior to or during a program. CHANGES SHALL NOT ENTITLE THE PARTICIPANT TO A REFUND.

6. Adventure Travel: It is the nature of adventure travel and sailing that the unexpected occurs, therefore changes as outlined in item 5 and unexpected adventures are to be anticipated. All program descriptions, maps and photos are generally representative of Ocean VOYAGES, Inc. but not specific guarantees as regards a particular voyage.

Ocean Voyages Institute

Ocean Voyages Institute is a Non-Profit Corporation established in 1979 with the purpose of organizing and encouraging sail training, maritime scientific research and education.

We are committed to thoroughly professional programs which emphasize access to the experience of the ocean world to many people. We are innovative and dynamic in our approach. For example, current activities include research programs in the South Pacific directed toward sail training and testing the feasibility of commercial sail and alternative energy; and San Francisco Bay area sail training for a wide spectrum of the community.

Projects underway involve sail education aboard a vessel operated by the Institute in and around San Francisco Bay and the design and development of a large, ocean-going sailing vessel specifically intended for sail training/cargo carrying and plans for a Pacific Islands schoolship.

Your support is earnestly solicited in the form of a tax deductible contribution. And as a clearing-house for ideas and information on sail training and related activities, we also ask for your input.

Our Director, Armin E. Elsaesser III, holds a USCG Merchant Marine Master of Sail license and is experienced in sea education and in the operation of large sailing vessels.

If you are interested in participating in the sail training programs or would like to contribute your ideas and support to our effort, please write or call Armin Elsaesser.

If a Roscop experience is a typical example of your programs you have one of the most unique and finest things going in this world. Please don't let anything tarnish it.

Special Offerings

For those of you who, with a group of friends, would like to plan your own Ocean Voyage, we can arrange a program to suit your time schedule, desired sailing area, and group size. The vessels listed within this brochure are also available for specially scheduled trips for groups. In addition, we have a worldwide fleet of fine yachts for your selection. Call us to receive information on yachts in addition to those listed in the area of your choice.

Corporate Charter

One look at a map shows that many of the world's great cities are on the water. When you consider the cost of suitable land based accommodations, fine meals, alcoholic beverages, etc., the prospect of chartering a large yacht becomes, by comparison, extremely cost-effective. Whether you want to make a distinct impression on a client or hold a conference where security is a consideration, chartering a yacht from Ocean VOYAGES is sound business practice.

Marine Cinema Services

Our Marine Cinema Services division serves the needs of the motion picture and television industry. Ocean VOYAGES' ongoing charter operations provide up-to-date information regarding vessel availability and local conditions in all corners of the world. As a result, MCS is able to research multiple potential locations simultaneously and utilize the best location for efficient filming operations.

Our goal is to offer operational expertise that allows accurate budget projection, and minimal down time through careful project planning. We welcome all inquiries regarding any film projects and are available as consultants and/or brokers.
